Jan. 122, 1924.

Thomaston Times,
Thomaston, Ga.

Gentlemen;

Enclosed find a death notice of Floyd S. Corbin who was born and partly reared at Thomaston. He was the Grandson of Judge James W. Green deceased, who resided at Thomaston and died there.

I would thank you to publish this in the next issue of your paper and send me two or three copies if you please.

Very respectfully,

J. C. Collier.

JCC:C
Enc.

My. Floyd Stewart Corbin died at his home, Euclid Hall 2345 Broadway New York City, on Monday January 21st. Mr. Corbin died unexpectedly, he was a Grandson of the late Judge James W. Green who resided and died at Thomaston many years ago. Mr. Corbin was the son of Virginia Green, daughter of Judge Green, and was born and partly reared at Thomaston, The Rock and Barnesville moving from Barnesville to Atlanta when he was about sixteen years old and from Atlanta to St. Louis, Mo. then about twenty five years ago he removed with his Mother, Brothers and Sisters to New York City. Mr. Corbin was a very large real estate operator and dealer in Stocks, Bonds etc. and at the time of his death was president of the Atlantic Industrial Alcohol Co. of Staten Island, New York City. He had been very successful as a realestate operated and represented many of the largest Railroad Companies in purchases of their water front terminals, appraisals etc. and stood very high as a business man in his community.

The above notice was received in a telegram by his Cousin, Mr. J.C.Collier, of Barnesville, Ga.